

The DashBoard Shows US Domestic Airline Flights Performance based on Report Type (Yearly Airline Performance Report/Yearly airline delay report) for a chosen year (2005-2020).

The picture above shows the Yearly Airline Performance Report for 2020. The report displays 5 different kinds of graphs.

1. A Tree graph that shows the flight count by airline to destination state.
2. A Pie chart that shows the percentage of flights by reporting airline.
3. A Map of the US that shows the number of flights from origin state.
4. A Bar graph showing the monthly flight cancelation.
5. A Line chart showing the average monthly flight time by airline.

The picture above shows the Yearly Airline Delay Report for 2020. The report displays 5 different kinds of Line Charts.

1. The average carrier delay time by airline.
2. The average weather delay time by airline.
3. The average NAS delay time by airline.
4. The average security delay time by airline.
5. The average late aircraft delay time by airline.